Commencement Week End 1954

Representing the chief agencies concerned with the new million dollar Leonard Hall classroom building at the Dedication Ceremony held Saturday, May 22, at Indiana State Teachers Colleges were Dr. Carl E. Seifert, deputy superintendent of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction; William M. Ruddock, president of the College Board of Trustees; John N. Forker, executive director of the Pennsylvania General State Authority; and Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the College.

A feature of Alumni Day, May 22, the Dedication Ceremony was held on North Walk on the Indiana College campus directly in front of the main entrance to the new Leonard Hall.

Leonard Hall, a principal classroom building at the State Teachers College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, has been essentially completed and will be used for classes in September, 1954. The new Leonard Hall building replaces the old structure by the same name which was destroyed by fire April 14, 1952. The new building has been constructed on the site of the old structure.

Leonard Hall was designed by Marlier and Johnstone, architects of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and was constructed by the L - D Building Company of Latrobe under the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania General State Authority. The cost of the building and furnishings has been approximately $1,175,000. The new building is "T" shaped, three stories in height, and of fire-proof materials. Because of the sloping site the first floor can be entered from the sides and rear only. The second floor may be entered from north walk through the beautiful main entrance of the building.

The new Leonard Hall contains seven laboratories, twenty-two classrooms, twenty-three faculty offices, the Indiana State Teachers College film library, a broadcasting studio, and ample provisions for storage space. The exterior of the building is of red brick to match McElhane Hall. Exterior trim is in limestone. The exterior front of Leonard Hall is finished in black granite from Sweden, and processed in West Germany. Outside steps are of Vermont granite. Flooring is of native flagstone. In the interior chalkboards are of green glass, ceilings are acoustical plaster, and the floors are of asphalt tile and linoleum tile. Classroom walls are painted in light brown, cream, green, yellow, gray colors. Furniture is all in natural finish.

Commencement week activities at the State Teachers College, Indiana, ended May 24 at noon with the Commencement Dinner in the College Dining Room.

At the commencement service, May 24, 1954, at 10:30 a.m., Dr. Millard E. Gladfelter, provost of Temple University, addressed the graduating class of more than 350 students using for his subject "The Noble Wish."

Dr. Willis E. Pratt conferred degrees of bachelor of science in education upon the seniors. Lt. Col. Talbert I. Martin, chairman of the department of military science and tactics, granted commissions as second lieutenants in the U. S. Army Reserve to fifteen of the senior men. Fifteen more seniors will receive commissions after they have completed their ROTC camp training at Fort Lee, Virginia, this summer.

Dr. Will W. Orr, president of Westminster College, delivered the baccalaureate address to the class of 1954, faculty, and visitors Sunday afternoon in Fisher Auditorium. Dr. Orr's subject was entitled, "The Goodness of God."

Sunday evening the College Choir directed by Wynn York gave the annual commencement concert at Flagstone Theater, the new outdoor theater on east campus at the college. The choir also furnished special music for the commencement and baccalaureate services and for the ceremony dedicating the new Leonard Hall.

Agnes Sligh Turnbull, noted American novelist, received the first annual citation given by the General Alumni Association of the State Teachers College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, for distinguished service.

The presentation of the citation to Mrs. Turnbull was made by Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college, on behalf of the General Alumni Association at the annual luncheon May 22, at noon in the college dining room.

Mrs. Turnbull is a graduate of the class of 1910 at Indiana State Teachers College. She was born at New Alexandria, Pennsylvania, the daughter of Alexander Halliday Sligh and Lucinda Hanna Sligh. She was educated in the public schools of this area and received her preparatory training at Washington, Pennsylvania, Seminary.

After her graduation from ISTC in 1910, she attended the University of Chicago. Mrs. Turnbull also received an honorary doctor of letters degree from Westminster College.

One of America's famous novelists, her best known books read by many thousands of Americans are "The Bishop's Mantle," "The Day Must Dawn," "Remember the End," "The Rolling Years," and "Gown of Glory."

The citation given to Mrs. Turnbull reads: "The General Alumni Association of the State Teachers College at Indiana, Pennsylvania, is privileged to confer upon Agnes Slight Turnbull the first annual citation for distinguished service toward the attainment of the high ideals and standards for which the College at Indiana stands."

At the General Alumni Association meeting held at 10:30 a.m., May 22, in Fisher Auditorium, the graduating class of 1954 was inducted into the Alumni Association. Mrs. Audrey Graham, of Wilkinsburg, class of 1917, presented the graduating class to the Alumni Association in a brief, impressive ceremony. Richard Flickinger, president of the class of 1954, responded to the presentation with remarks on behalf of the class.

Other business conducted by the Alumni Association included reports from the treasurer, Mary L. Esch, and projects committee chairman, Mrs. Ward Johnson. Dr. Willis E Pratt, president of the college, welcomed Alumni to the college for Alumni Day.

Alumni classes of 1884, 1889, 1894, 1899, 1904, 1914, 1924, 1929, 1934, and 1944 held reunions on Alumni Day, Saturday, May 22. Among the several hundred reuniting Alumni present were the two surviving members of the seventy-year class of 1884, Mrs. Jane McElveen Patton and Sarah M. Gallaher.

A report from Executive Secretary Mary L Esch, indicates that 327 Alumni registered for Alumni Day. This number includes the two from the class of 1884, sixteen from 1899, eight from 1904, thirty-two from 1914, fifty-two from 1924, fifty-eight from 1929, twelve from 1934, fourteen from 1944, and a total of 133 from all other classes. It is very probable, Miss Esch states, that a number of others who did not register also attended.

Alumni Day, May 22, was concluded with a reception by Dr. and Mrs. Willis E. Pratt for Alumni, seniors, and guests in the President's Apartment, John Sutton Hall at 8:00, followed by dancing and bridge at 8:30 p.m.

In executive council session on May 21 the Alumni Association representatives voted to continue the publication of the Alumni News for four issues—October, 1954; December, 1954; March, 1955; and June, 1955. The project committee reported that an additional $500 had been allocated from the General Alumni Fund to the Organ Fund. This sum added to the $900 set aside from the 75th Anniversary Fund, plus the accumulated interest, makes $1,481.74 available for organ stops. The two stops, the triangular flute and geigen principal will be added to the organ this summer.

The executive council also approved the following motion made by Arthur F. Nicholson and seconded by Dr. Vashti Burr Whittington. The motion is that:

The General Alumni Association Executive Council authorize the President of the General Alumni Association to appoint a special committee of six persons consisting of the executive secretary of the association, the chairman of the projects committee, the editor of the Alumni News, the President of the General Association, and two members selected from the Alumni at-large by the Association president.

The authorized function of this committee shall be two-fold:

(1) To investigate the advisability of having the Indiana State Teachers College Alumni Association take out a continuing membership in the American Alumni Council and to recommend a course of action for the approval of the General Alumni Association Membership. (2) To investigate the future possibilities of forming an Indiana State Teachers College General Alumni Association Office with a full-time, professional, association-paid Alumni secretary and to recommend a course of action for the approval of the General Alumni Association Membership.

A preliminary report or final report of this committee shall be ready for the approval of the General Alumni Association Executive Council and the membership at-large on Homecoming Day, 1954, and a final report by Alumni Day, 1955.

Dean W. M. Whitmyre Retires

effective June 1, 1954

Walter Murray Whitmyre, dean of men at the State Teachers College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, for the past 37 years, retired as of June 1, 1954, according to Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college.

The college board of trustees has accepted Dean Whitmyre's retirement and has approved Leroy H. Schnell, who has for the past 17 years been a member of the faculty and administrative officer at the College in Indiana, to succeed him.

"Dean Walter Murray Whitmyre has been untiringly devoted in his services to the students and the college at Indiana for more than 27 years," Dr. Pratt states.

"He has influenced for good the lives of thousands of students who have sat in his social studies classes and who have dealt with him in his supervisory activities as dean of men."

"Dean Whitmyre has the respect of the faculty, administration, students, alumni, board of trustees, and friends of Indiana State Teachers College who wish him well in his retirement," Dr. Pratt said.

Leroy H. Schnell, who will succeed Mr. Whitmyre as dean of men, has been with the Indiana State Teachers College since 1936. During this period he has served as a mathematics and education instructor, as placement officer, and for the past few years has been veterans counselor, director of student aid, in charge of selective service information and military liaison.

Prior to 1920 the title of dean of men at Indiana was preceptor and Mr. Whitmyre had this role from 1917-1920. When the title was changed he assumed the new position. The position of preceptor was created in 1907 when William J. Jack received that title. He held the position until 1917.

One of the most notable honors given to Dean Whitmyre has been the naming of the men's dormitory at Indiana State Teachers College in his honor. The Walter Murray Whitmyre Hall was dedicated and so named on Alumni Day, May 24, 1952. During his 37 years at Indiana State Teachers College, he has served as head of the social studies department until the current school year when he was succeeded by Dr. Ralph W. Corcier.

Dean Whitmyre was born at Oakmont, Pennsylvania. He attended the public schools of Jeannette, graduating from the high school as valedictorian of the class of 1905. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Syracuse University in 1909 and his master of arts degree from Harvard University in 1917. Subsequently he attended Teachers College at Columbia University and Temple University for further graduate work.

He was married to Jean McElroy, McKeesport, on June 30, 1913. Mr. and Mrs. Whitmyre have three children: George who now resides in Cleveland, Mrs. Katherine Whitmyre Johnson of Orchard Park, New York, and Walter Jr. who resides in the New York area.

Before joining the staff at Indiana, Mr. Whitmyre served for two years as a teacher of social studies at Jeannette High School from 1910 to 1912; as a teacher in a private institution, Shattuck School, Faribault, Minnesota, during the year 1912 to 1913; and as a teacher in the Dubuque, Iowa High School for four years 1913 to 1917.

He served as preceptor and coach of athletics from 1917 to 1920 at Indiana State Teachers College at which time he became first dean of men of the college.

The new dean of men, Leroy H. Schnell, was graduated from Battle Creek High School in 1919. He received his A.B. degree from Albion College, Michigan, in 1924 and his master of arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1927. He has done much graduate work at the Teachers College, Columbia University and the University of Pittsburgh.

He began his teaching career in Ann Arbor, Michigan, in 1924 where he taught for three years in the junior and senior high school and served as assistant principal. During the 1927-1928 school term he taught at Michigan State College of Education in Lansing, Michigan, and also served in a supervisory role. He taught in the junior and senior high school at Bowling Green State University in Ohio from 1928 to 1930. For a six year period from 1930 to 1936 he was teacher and supervisor at the Michigan State Normal School.

He has been with the faculty as a teacher and administrative officer at Indiana State Teachers College since 1936 with the exception of a 2½ year period when he served as an officer in the United States Naval Reserve during World War II.

Outdoor Theater Built

---

on East
Campus

East Campus has traditionally been the site of Annual Senior Swing-Out ceremonies and many other meetings during the years. On many occasions in the past various people have proposed or suggested the placing of an outdoor theater stage in this beautiful location on the college campus in Indiana.

The construction of an outdoor theater was planned originally six years ago. However, many more pressing matters intervened during the ensuing time. Early last fall it was determined that there would be a stage constructed on East Campus. The Board of Trustees of the college approved the construction in December, 1954.

With funds provided by students, alumni, and friends of the college, actual construction was begun early in the spring of 1954. The stage was essentially completed in time for the 1954 Annual Senior Swing-Out event.

The outdoor theater stage on East Campus at the College in Indiana, will be used for many college and community purposes such as those exemplified by the Swing-Out ceremony and the 1954 commencement concert.

It is hoped in the months and years to come that this stage will be used for outdoor sings, band concerts, summer vesper services, and by many organizations for college and community events of interest to large numbers of people in the area.

This outdoor theater stage has been designed by William Clark, landscape architect of Indiana. It was erected by the maintenance staff of Indiana State Teachers College under the supervision of Ward Eicher and Norman Sawyer.

The small building, 25 feet by 10 feet, which forms the background for the stage is constructed of cement blocks with an exterior of perma-stone. This building will be used for dressing rooms and for the storage of equipment to be used there with the outdoor theater events. In one of the rooms is located an electrical center from which footlights, lanterns, and spotlights may be operated. A view-opening in the right section of the building wall facing the stage will enable the electrician to observe events occurring on the stage and to receive signals relating to the lighting.

There are lanterns to the left and right of the stage center, spotlights to the left and right of the main seating area, and footlights at the front of the stage.

The outdoor theater will be operated with temporary flexible seating in the foreseeable future. There is adequate space to seat 1,300 persons in the area immediately to the front of the center area of the stage.

Flagstone walks form the center aisle and approaches from the right and left of the seating area. Flagstone walks also circle the stage area and provide an approach from College Avenue. The stage proper has walking area approximately 20 feet by 40 feet with extension areas on which are planted rosebay, rhododendron, Canadian hemlock and various evergreen shrubs designed to screen and cover the stage wings and make a focus center for the main stage.

Among the various shrubs used in the outdoor stage and on the surrounding areas are included: Froebel spirch, beauty bushes, butterfly bushes, perwinkle, English ivy, and others.

The stage itself is elevated from about eighteen to forty-two inches. The stage wall is constructed of native Pennsylvania fieldstone containing inside the wall field dirt, ash base, and covered with Pennsylvania flagstone.

A number of individuals and organizations made available the funds needed for the construction of this outdoor theater stage. The total cost of materials used in the construction was more than $3,000—all of which was donated by the following organizations or individuals:

Indiana State Teachers College Student Council, J. S. Mack Foundation (J. S. Mack, president; Mrs. Margaret Overdorff, secretary-treasurer).

Indiana State Teachers College General Alumni Association (Miss Ethel Waddell, president; Mrs. Ward C. Johnson, chairman of projects committee); D. I. Johnston (Oklahoma City Attorney and member of the class of 1899); Kenneth Sink (manager of the Indiana Coca-Cola Bottling Company); Indiana State Teachers College Pittsburgh Alumni Unit (Mrs. Beatrice Fleming Harvey, president; Miss Olive Dickson, vice-president); Indiana State Teachers College Pittsburgh Junior Alumni Unit (Mrs. J. D. Bayus, president); Pittsburgh North Boroughs Alumni Unit (Beatrice Jeffries, president; Mrs. Gerald Davis, vice-president).

It is the hope of the administration of the State Teachers College at Indiana that students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the college in general and the people of the community will enjoy many public concerts, services and ceremonies in this lovely recently created location on the East Campus of the State Teachers College, Indiana, Pennsylvania.

In a contest sponsored by the Indiana Penn, the name selected for the Outdoor Theater is the "Flagstone Theater."

Library Progress Continues

Wilson Hall Library

Alumni reunion classes returning to the college May 22, 1954, are furnishing money for the repair and renovation of the Reference Room on the first floor of the Wilson Hall Library, State Teachers College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, according to Mary L. Esch, executive secretary of the General Alumni Association of the college.

The reunion classes who met on the college campus during Alumni Day on May 22 include representatives from those groups which graduated in 1884, 1889, 1894, 1899, 1904, 1914, 1924, 1929, 1934, and 1944.

The renovation of the Reference Room will complete the renewal of all the downstairs room in the Wilson Hall Library at the Indiana State Teachers College. The Reference Room will be reshelved in light oak style with appropriate lounge furniture and matching drapes.

Since 1938 many accomplishments have been achieved to further develop the library in Wilson Hall. The outside of the building has been painted and the roof repaired.

A definite remodeling program which will completely refurnish each of the eight main rooms has been in process since 1951. Designs and plans have been drawn by Mr. Ralph Reynolds, art department faculty member. The shelving, tables, and study chairs are finished in light oak, the drapes of beige monks cloth, and the upholstered furniture and accessories are in keeping with the individual color scheme for each room.

The first room was furnished in 1951 as a Reading Lounge (formerly the Pennsylvania Room) with funds from the reuning classes of 1891, 1896, 1901, 1911, 1921, 1926, 1931, 1941, and 1951.

The Periodical Room was similarly furnished in 1952 by the reunion classes of 1892, 1897, 1902, 1912, 1922, 1927, 1932, 1942, and 1952.

The Curriculum Materials Rooms was completed in 1953 by the reunion classes of 1888, 1893, 1898, 1913, 1923, 1928, 1933, and 1943.

Additional steel shelves were provided in 1950 permitting the expansion and rearrangement of periodicals and documents. At this same time all "book" stacks were opened to the public. Plans are underway to develop the fourth basement room into more storage space, typing and phonograph record listening room.

The Reference Room is now being re-designed and will be refurnished during the summer of 1954. Furniture from the present Reference Room will partially refurnish a room on the second floor. One of the rooms that will lend itself most attractively to being a memorial room is the Children's Literature Room.

Just as this issue was going to press, Judge E. E. Creps of Indiana County announced that the class of 1904 was giving a fund of $375 for the library renovation fund. Total amount given by reunion classes for the library in 1954 is about $1600.

Summer Theater Guild

Summer Theater Guild, which had successful seasons in 1952 and 1953 at the Indiana State Teachers College, will again be conducted in the summer of 1954.

Alumni units and individual members are cordially invited to support this worthy venture into the living theater. The management of Summer Theater Guild will be glad to cooperate with Alumni units in arranging for special unit nights during June, July, and August at the summer theater. Units may use these nights as a means of making money for their local units if they care to. Such arrangements may be made with Arthur F. Nicholson, business director for the Summer Theater Guild.

Summer Theater Guild will operate during the main session of the Indiana State Teachers College summer school and a series of six outstanding plays will be presented four nights each week for six weeks in Fisher Auditorium June 30 to August 7.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday as follows: June 30 to July 3, July 7 to July 10, July 14 to July 17, July 21 to July 24, July 28 to July 31, August 4 to August 7.

The six plays to be presented in respective order as follows are Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman's "You Can't Take It With You," Patterson Greene's "Papa Is All," Vera Caspary and George Sklar's "Laura," Ruth Gordon's "Years Ago," Philip King's "See How They Run," and Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit."

Most of the theater actors and aides will be interested people from the Indiana vicinity and some students participating in the college dramatic workshop. This drama workshop might be an interesting summer school project for many Alumni now teaching or even some of those who are married and no longer teaching. Students in the workshop may earn from three to nine semester hours credits as a regular part of the summer sessions program and have loads of fun being members of an active theater group.

Production of six major plays will necessitate having every available individual in a variety of capacities ranging from assisting with props to acting roles.

Fisher Auditorium at the college will be the scene for Summer Theater Guild productions. The theater portion will be the downstairs area from the balcony break forward to the stage. A partition will be used to give the effect of a smaller theater playhouse.

Alumni and other interested people may obtain a patron's book of six tickets at $10.00 per book. Of this amount $7.00 will be for six admissions to the plays and $3.00 will be a contribution toward underwriting the theater and the placement of the name on the patron's list.

Other books of six tickets are available at $7.00. A special season ticket book at $4.00 is available to college students not enrolled in Indiana State Teachers College summer sessions and to all other students of junior and senior high school and college ages. Individual admission may be procured at the box office for $1.50 each.

Persons holding patron's or season tickets may use their six admissions to one each of the six plays or may use all six admissions for one performance allowing them to bring five guests. In brief the admissions in the season ticket books are good for use all at one time, at one performance, two performances or any other combination at the convenience of the owner.

All Pennsylvania College Alumni Dinner

Eleven guests from Pennsylvania attended the annual winter meeting of the District of Columbia Association of the Indiana State Teachers College which was held jointly with the All Pennsylvania College Alumni Association of Washington, D.C., on February 6 at the Hotel Shoreham, at its luncheon to honor presidents of Pennsylvania colleges and universities.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University, received the 1954 Citation for outstanding contribution toward preserving and extending the American ideals of education and constitutional government. Present to see his brother receive the citation was President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In his acceptance remarks, Dr. Eisenhower stated:

"American schools still have to contribute to character-building, to helping each student achieve a depth of understanding. But America's position in the world has placed on us some new (educational) responsibilities.

"Trying to help each student develop an abiding and deep commitment in the free way of life—a commitment that is not based upon indoctrination and mere emotional peachment. . . a conviction based on true understanding.

"Trying to help students achieve an understanding of the world so that they can think of global terms with as much understanding as you and I used to think in community terms.

"Trying to help all the people build that understanding of other people's culture on which the cooperative peace must be based. If we are to have the intellectual, economic, political cooperation which will yield the kind of peace we want, it will be based on understanding and cooperation throughout the world."

Miss Mary B. McAndrews, superintendent of schools in Carbondale, Pa., for twenty years, addressed the luncheon group on the subject, "Are You a Leader?"

Among others at the speaker's table were: Senator Edward Martin; Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent; and Dr. Carl E. Seifert, deputy superintendent of public instruction; Dr. Theodore A. Distler, executive director-elect of the Association of American Colleges; and John J. McGinty, president of the All-Pennsylvania College Alumni Association, who presented the citation to Dr. Eisenhower.

Indiana alumnus member of Congress, Paul C. Cunningham (Iowa), was official host for the tables for Indiana alumni and their guests, as follows:

From Pennsylvania—Miss Mary L. Esch, registrar; Mrs. Elizabeth Straub, of Johnstown, vice president of the General Alumni Association; Dr. P. D. Lott, member of the college faculty; Mrs. Ward Johnson, chairman of Alumni projects; Samuel F. Furguiele, president of the Indiana Unit; Mrs. Viola Ottinger Woener president of the Philadelphia Unit and five others from that city—Mrs. Dorothy Heyden Hoehler, Mrs. Nelle Rose Kennedy, Eleanor Pfordt, Mrs. Martha Ziegler Wagner and her husband, William Wagner.

Attending from the District of Columbia Club, in addition to Representative Cunningham and Dr. Whittington, were other members of the Unit Executive Committee: Mrs. Margaret McComb Anderson, Mrs. Laura Phillippi Gienger, Mrs. Marie Kress Gardner, Dorothy A. Ramale, Mrs. Nora Hay McKirdy, and Mrs. June Wilgus Reed. Also attending were the following members; Mrs. Marie Beilstein Frye, Mrs. Mary Lang Vail, Mrs. Grace O'Neal Lehman, Mrs. Edith Cover Shaffer, Mary Burchfield, Nora Lee Orndorff, Anthony De Pasquale, Sally Hess, Mrs. Mary Caldwell Piranian, Mrs. Ruby Henry Peters, and Mrs. Ruth Caldwell Brillhart.

Among the fifteen guests were Mrs. Edward Caldwell, mother of Mrs. Pirenian and Mrs. Brillhart, Guy W. Gienger, William V. Whittington, L. Graham Lehman, and Col. Forrest C. Shaffer.

Scholarship and Loan Program Expanded

Jokes and stories abound in the folklore of American people to illustrate the college student's perpetual need for money. Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college in Indiana, points out.

"Seriously the problem of money to finance higher education for most individuals is indeed a very important one," Dr. Pratt declares.

From the student's viewpoint and also from the viewpoint of his parents, higher education has become a very expensive proposition. During the course of the years the State Teachers College at Indiana has made many endeavors to help students finance their education and to help them meet the emergencies caused by the lack of money.

Latest development in assisting students with their finances to occur at the Indiana State Teachers College has been the establishment of a small loan fund.

According to Dr. Pratt, many students from time to time need the immediate use of sums of from $5.00 to $20.00 to buy a book, to pay a small fee or to pay toward their participation in some worthwhile extra-curricular project.

Therefore, the College in Indiana has set up a small loan fund from which a student may borrow up to $20.00 for a period of one month with no interest. All the student will need to do in order to borrow this money will be to give his signature to the effect that he has borrowed.

In most cases it will be possible to repay the loan within the 30-day period. In the event that this is not possible, at the end of 60 days the student will sign a note and pay a nominal rate of interest.

The small loan fund will be dispersed through the offices of the dean of instruction, dean of men, dean of women, and the director of student aid. Money for the small loan will come from the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Loan Fund which has been established at the college for several decades.

The small loans are specifically for emergency purposes and will be easily available for the convenience of students in case of need.

The Leonard Loan Fund proper has for many years taken care of large loans for students. The plan in operation provides for the granting of loans to sophomores, juniors, and seniors with interest at two percent payable at the maturity of the loan. Maximum sum loaned from the Leonard Memorial Fund to any one individual is $400.

In addition to the small loan and the Leonard Loan Fund, the Men's Varsity "I" Club has a loan fund from which members may borrow not more than $150 per year. Such loans are made for a reasonable period of time from 30 days to one year and are interest free for the first year. Thereafter the interest rate is two percent per annum.

In addition to the three loan funds in operation, Indiana State Teachers College has a system of scholarships available both from funds given outright to the college for these purposes and from funds given by various organizations in cooperation with the college to selected students.

In total there are about 110 such scholarships now in existence at the college. The largest scholarship fund is the Corinne Menk Wahr which has a sum of money available amounting to approximately $150,000. Since 1949 the Corinne Menk Wahr scholarship fund has dispersed of $32,000 in scholarship money.

The second largest scholarship grouping at the College in Indiana is that of the Syntro Foundation of Homer City and Blairsville which is at the present time awarding eight students at the college scholarships at the rate of $200 per year each for four years.

Other Indiana scholarships include the Clark Memorial Scholarship, the Morris Scholarship, Presser Foundation Scholarship, Kappa Delta Pi Scholarship, and Secondary Education Scholarship.

There are in addition a number of scholarships given to Indiana students by community groups such as the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs of Indiana, Alumni Association Units, various educational groups, and others.

Trustees Re-elect President Ruddock; Board Reviews College Progress Projects

An Indiana attorney was retained as president of the board of trustees of Indiana State Teachers College at a meeting of the group in Indiana, May 4, 1954.

William M. Ruddock, Water and Seventh streets, was elected to his first full term at the annual reorganization meeting of the board. He was appointed to the presidency of the board August 13, 1953, to replace the late Harry Carson of Saltsburg.

Other officers were also retained at the May meeting. They are: Mrs. James Mack Sr., 231 North Sixth Street, Indiana; Cyrus W. Davis, Conemaugh, secretary; and John G. St. Clair, 638 School Street, Indiana, a non-member, treasurer.

The remainder of the board is composed of Mrs. William E. Pierce, 514 School Street and John W. Neff, 116 North Eighth Street, both of Indiana. Joseph Sheriff, Windber, Dr. Albert E. Pechan, Ford City, and Steele Clark, Cherry Tree.

Annual report of the auditor general showed expenditures and income for the year at $1.3 million. The figure represents an increase of approximately $47,000 over the previous year, according to Dr. Willis E. Pratt, college president.

Dr. Pratt stated that college enrollment remained at maximum capacity of nearly 1,600 students for the fifth straight year. About 85 percent of 1953 graduates of the college are teaching in Pennsylvania schools, Dr. Pratt said.

Trustees received annual reports of the $150,000 Corrine Menk Wahr Scholarship Fund and the $25,000 Leonard Loan Fund. Scholarships amounting to about $9,000 and loans of nearly $12,000 were made during the past year, it was announced.

Board members also approved acceptance of $3,000 in gifts toward paying the construction cost of the new outdoor theater.

The Elkin Annex building located on the old Elkin property now belonging to the State Teachers College at Indiana, will be renovated this spring and early summer.

The college maintenance department workers will add approximately 35 feet of length and the same width to the building and make it over into a music practice room for band, orchestra, and large choral groups of the music department.

The old portion of the building and the new portion will be sound proofed with acoustical tile. Work on the addition to this old building will begin in the very near future.

Additional new roadways are planned for the campus at the State Teachers College. A special state allocation of $13,200 has been made for these roadways. This work will be done the spring and summer of 1954.

One of the specific projects to be accomplished will be the widening of College Avenue an additional 12 feet and the placing of a curb on the west side of College Avenue so that children can walk without fear of on-coming automobiles.

The second specific project will be the widening of the circle road at the west side of John Sutton Hall to make it possible to lessen congestion of traffic which occurs in this area from time to time.

Bids for the replacing of roofs on the dining room, kitchen, and power house at the Indiana State Teachers College, are to be accepted June 1, 1954, by the Pennsylvania Department of Property and Supplies in Harrisburg. A special allocation of money has been set aside for these roof repairs and replacement projects, Dr. Pratt stated.

Tuesday, December 8, the Pittsburgh Unit held its Annual Christmas Dinner in the Ruskin Dining Room. This party has become one of the unit activities eagerly awaited by the members of both Senior and Junior groups and this year, it was, indeed, a gala event.

Miss Ethel Waddell, President of the Alumni Association, was a guest as was also Miss Alice St. Clair, a representative from the college.

After the singing of carols, Santa Claus (Mary Griffith Montenerde, 1916) appeared bearing gifts in true, traditional fashion. Letitia McClay Fulton, 1927, was in charge of arrangements and decorations.

PHILADELPHIA UNIT

Viola Ottinger Woerner (Mrs. Ralph L.) president, Patsy Watson High (Mrs. J. Walter) secretary-treasurer, Helen Millslagle Bates (Mrs. A. H.), Mildred Mullan Cable (Mrs. John E.), Mary Edna Flegal.

Roseanna Ball Hane (Mrs. John A.), Dorothy Heyden Hoehler (Mrs. Harry), Nelle Rose Kennedy (Mrs. R. C.), Jean D. McCreight, Opal Alabran Pearson (Mrs. Ward B.).

Eleanor Pfordt, Ida Robertson, Mary Schuckers, Helen Bruner Snyder (Mrs. L.A.), Margaret Wallace Van Ormer (Mrs. I. C.), Martha Zeigler Wagner (Mrs. William S.).

After partaking of favorite menus, paying yearly dues, and "checking" on individual doings they all were ready to hear plans for the next meeting. Ollie Woerner spoke up for May 14 at Mizpah Ranch, where we could play bridge, canasta or scrabble, and watch those fine horses.

Mary Edna Flegal announced that 1954 was her 55th anniversary. But, the real news and surprise of the evening was Ida Robertson's announcement of her retirement from teaching to be followed by her marriage. All agreed that the lucky man was receiving a prize.

JOHNSTOWN UNIT

Miss Blanche Ober, 1927, 232 Arbutus Avenue, was elected president of the Johnstown Unit, State Teachers College, Indiana, at a dinner-meeting April 28, in the Y Dairy-Dine, Market Street. #### LIBRARY NEEDS

The Library in Wilson Hall is interested in obtaining back issues of Indiana's yearbooks for the library archives.

The following years are not available for the historical records:

1898 through 1911, 1915, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1927, 1928, and 1941.

KISKI VALLEY UNIT

Kiski Valley Unit of Indiana State Teachers College Alumni held its annual Spring banquet and organization meeting in North Apollo fire hall in April, 1954.

New officers are Rita Vicker, president; Kate Owens, secretary, and Isabelle W. Grossheim, treasurer.

Rev. Stewart, minister and psychologist, was guest speaker. He discussed the importance of cooperation between family and school. Mrs. William McGeary was program chairman.

President Mrs. John Hause, presided. Entertainment was provided by Mary Elizabeth Sloan and her Treble Makers.

Proceeds from a benefit card party held in January, 1954, in North Apollo fire hall will be deposited in the scholarship fund of the Kiski Valley Unit of the Indiana State Teachers College Alumni.

The ways and means committee of the unit sponsored the party, with Mrs. Edward Lukehart as chairman.

The fire department donated use of its hall.

Total of 32 tables were in play, with bridge, canasta and 500 card games.

Prizes for high score were given at each table.

The Legion rooms in Vandergrift were gay with Halloween decorations for the October, 1953, meeting of the Kiski Valley Unit, Indiana State Teachers College Alumni.

Unit president, Mrs. John Hause, conducted the business meeting, during which Miss Angie Marshall of Allegheny Township, who was very influential in getting the Kiski Unit started, was made a life member.

A resolution was passed urging that the Unit's annual scholarship award to a worthy high school student in the Kiski Valley be announced at the April dinner each year.

Dr. P. D. Lott, who is the college representative to the local unit, was guest speaker. He talked about the requirements made of student teachers at Indiana in comparison to requirements of other colleges. The Indiana State Teachers College requires a full semester of actual classroom experience.

Dr. Lott also gave the members of the unit an "in absentia" introduction to new members on the college faculty.

It was announced that the annual scholarship benefit card party will be held in January.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. William McGeary, program chairman, conducted a game period during which prizes of all corsages were awarded to winners. Miss Katherine Owens and Mrs. Harry Pennington. Miss Marjorie Rinard then appeared as the ghost of historical characters, and Miss Angie Marshall won the prize for guessing the most ghosts correctly.

Lunch was served by the committee: Mrs. McGeary, Mrs. Eugene McCormick, and Miss Helen Rising. Attractive favors, which were made by Mrs. McGeary's 7th grade art class in the Allegheny—Hyde Park Schools, were featured at the lunch.

TRI-TOWNSHIP ALUMNI UNIT

The Tri-Township Alumni Unit of the Etate Teachers College, Indiana Pennsylvania, held a dinner meeting at the Commodore Methodist Church, April 26. Thirty-three members and guests enjoyed the varied, delicious and abundant food provided by the covered dish plan. The tables were attractively decorated with spring flower and miniature parasols. Program booklets added interest and color.

Mrs. Anna Maurer, president, served as mistress of ceremonies and conducted a short business session which included the election of officers and representatives to the Executive Council meeting at the college. Miss Mary L. Esch, registrar, brought greetings and interesting news of college projects and accomplishments.

A musical interlude was provided by Joseph Folger playing trumpet and William Lovell II, Piano. Both are students in the junior year at Indiana.

The highlight of the evening was a delightful and informative talk by Miss Maali Kira of Cairo, Egypt. Miss Kira is enrolled as a special student at the Indiana State Teachers College. The following aspects of modern Egypt were touched upon: education, political situation, standards of living, industry, etc. A question and answer period was then conducted.
